JAFORD · Specifications

Functional materials development

Functional materials development

Model / type	Functional materials development
Capability / application	Develop MOFs, COFs, advanced membrane materials, functional polymers and porous materials with specialist synthesis, processing and characterization resources. We assess the route and application together to move from small samples toward larger batches and material validation.